Coleman Honored By Visit of Sir Edward Beatty President of The C.P.R. And Large Party of Officials

Spend Two Hours Here Monday Morning And Visit Local Mining Plants Accompanied By Resident Officials And Visiting Directors

Arriving on his special train, returning from his annual inspection trip over Canadian Pacific lines, Sir Edward Beatty, K. C., president of the company, accompanied by a large party of officials, spent two hours in Coleman on Monday morning of this week.

The president and his party were met at the station and welcomed to Coleman by Mayor Pattinson, Mr. George Kellock, vice-president and general manager of McGillivray Creek Coal & Coke Co., together with a large party of officials of both mining companies. The distinguished visitors were taken in cars on an inspection trip to the two large mining properties in Coleman, and they expressed keen interest in the huge modern coal mining plants operating at this point. President Beatty and others in the party were particularly taken with the new wet coal cleaning plant operating at the McGillivray mine, and stated that it was one of the finest and best type of washer that they had seen in Canada.

The railway president in speaking of general conditions throughout Canada, expressed the conviction that conditions were improved over 1934, and while there was nothing spectacular, still he believed that there had been a steady, upward trend in business in general. Speaking more particularly of Western Canada he was of the opinion that present conditions were considerably brighter than they were at this time last year owing to the fact that crop conditions on the prairie were more promising, and the only fly in the ointment being the doubt respecting the possibility of the ready marketing of our wheat.

Mr. Beatty would not commit himself as to whether there had been any further advances made towards unification of the C.P.R. and C.N.R. lines, stating that he had no further statements to make on the subject until the present Dominion elections were over. In the meantime he had no intention of making any public announcement on the subject.

Included in the party which spent Monday morning in Coleman were Sir Edward Beatty, W. M. Neal, Winnipeg, vice-president of the C.P.R. in charge of Western lines; E. C. Cottrill, general superintendent C.P.R. Alberta; James J. Warren, president Consolidated Mining and Smelting Co. of Canada, Trail; L. A. Campbell, president McGillivray Creek Coal & Coke Co., Trail; J. W. Hobbs, Toronto; H. J. Davis, Victoria; H. A. Howard, Calgary; W. A. Black, Montreal; R. S. McLaughlin, Oshawa, president of the General Motors of Canada; Norman Daves, Montreal; C. F. Sise, Montreal.

Coal Creek Wins Elks' Carnival Proves Grand Central Cup Most Enjoyable Event

Coal Creek Dominate Play Throughout the Game to Gain an Easy Victory

Coal Creek, the youngest team in the league, were easy winners over Blairmore in the final of the Grand Central cup played at Michel on Sunday. Coal Creek had accounted for Coleman the previous week in an overtime game while Blairmore won over Fernie on the latter's ground.

The opening exchanges were fairly even, Coal Creek trying the long passing game to advantage. Both goalies saved nice shots, each being called upon to save certain goals while lying full length on the ground. Coal Creek goal escaped on a number of occasions, Blairmore being unlucky not to score. Three minutes from half time Price mis-kicked, Atkinson being allowed to get in front of goal to score Coal Creek's first goal.

Blairmore gave a miserable exhibition in the second half and Coal Creek swarmed all over them. Blairmore rearranged their forward line but to no avail, mis-kicking and poor passing featuring their play. Stuart, Dawson and Gardiner were the only players in the Blairmore lineup who fought back with any doggedness. Stuart brought off many fine saves as Coal Creek shot from all angles. Coal Creek were not to be denied, however, and four minutes from time Atkinson took a shot from well out, Stuart touching the ball but just failing to stop it. Final whistle came with the score 2-0 in favor of Coal Creek.

Coal Creek—Sopko, Ferguson, McNay, Simpson, Kearns, Smith, Milburn, Johnston, Atkinson, Webster, Artherton.

Blairmore—Stuart, Evans, Price, Gardiner, Dowson, McVey, Velprava, Pryde, Parker, Gray, Kemp.

PAINT PRICES SHARPLY REDUCED

A sharp reduction in the price of first quality house paint to $3.95 per gallon is announced by the manufacturers of some of Canada's best-known brands of paint, the reduction to take effect immediately.

In making the announcement, the companies concerned state that the reduction is not justified by any change in market conditions or manufacturing costs. They point out, however, that during the past few years many householders have been misled by "bargain" prices into using inferior paint, with results that reacted unfavorably on the whole industry. Drastic action was felt to be necessary to check a situation that seriously threatened property values all over the country.

The new low price is designed to make it easier for property owners to use first quality paint only, with resulting benefit to the property and to the community in general.

The companies announcing the reduction are Canada Paint, International Varnish, Martin-Senour, and Sherwin-Williams.

T. Jackson's Birds Win Championship

T. Jackson's homing pigeons again came to the fore when they won the championship trophies for the season. The final race was from Wetaskiwin, a distance of 273 miles air-line. Mr. Jackson's first bird was clocked at a velocity of 125 yards per minute. As a result of his birds' performance this season he will be presented with the Patterson cup and Fumigall cup.

This week's race results are as follows:

Wetaskiwin. Distance 237 miles air-line.

- | | Velocity per minute. |

Rev. E. G. Hansell Named Candidate Macleod Ridding

Chosen to Carry Social Credit Banner in Dominion Election.

MACLEOD, Sept. 10—Social Creditors of Macleod federal constituency Tuesday night, with the sanction of the constituency advisory committee, selected Rev. E. G. Hansell, Vulcan, as their candidate.

Two other names were submitted to the advisory committee following a convention which lasted until the early hours Tuesday morning.

Financing was decided on through a levy of 15 cents per member for the federal election.

Eleven names were placed in nomination which required four ballots to elect three from whom the candidate was chosen, these were E. G. Hansell, Vulcan; J. H. McLean, Bellevue and D. Hoyle, Coleman, after which the organizer with his executive made a choice and the lot fell on Mr. Hansell.

The Social Crediters at the convention numbered 122. Roger Hunt was elected chairman for the organization with E. G. Hansell, president; E. L. Buckwell, vice-president; J. B. Morley secretary-treasurer, and a working committee from each provincial district. A motion to have C. G. Coote, M.P., last house, address the evening meeting, was voted down.

Democracy And Liberty

Liberty, says Mr. Stanley Baldwin, is rooted in the English character and fostered and maintained by institutions which have grown out of that character. That liberty is embodied in the parliamentary system which is the result of the obstinate determination of the English people to manage, individually and nationally, their own affairs. Mr. Baldwin says that system has grown out of the common sense and good nature of the people, who prefer elections to street fighting, and talking shop to revolutionary tribunals. The English, above all other peoples, have made a success of democracy and that success has been planted in the Overseas Dominions. The reason for this is adduced by The London Times as being a refusal to "wear our fetters in our souls." That freedom is the breath of democracy which protects the people from domination by one side or the other through the expression of opinion in the ballot box. It is, as The Times says, "the translation into action of our instinctive determination to resist any form of tyranny that has from time to time preserved us."

Mr. Baldwin reiterates that the price of liberty is eternal vigilance, and the more so in a democracy which is the most difficult form of government, and, therefore, the most worthy of giving our lives to make it a fact. Thus Great Britain has the notion that it is not enough to sit with folded arms and believe that she has the greatest Government in the world. Tyranny takes many forms. It is constantly raising its head. One way of propaganda it has devised is to constantly besmear that democracy has failed. According to Mr. Baldwin, it is the form of government which has won more triumphs than any other, and, therefore, should be cherished and cultivated as in times past. Self-government, which is democracy, has maintained in developing forms in England for eight centuries. One way of being able to tear it from its roots, which are laid in the English character.

When we review the history of this North American continent, we find that the struggle for liberty and self-government is written large over its pages. The Pilgrim Fathers left the old world in order that they might enjoy that religious liberty denied to them at home. The original American colonies revolted because self-government was withheld from them, and taxation imposed on them without their consent. The American Civil War was a life and death struggle for liberty. One long fight followed another in pre-Confederation days to win liberty and the rights of responsible government in Canada.

In the earlier days of the world's history, liberty could only be gradually won through bloodshed and death on the battlefield. Today it can only be retained and expanded through democratic forms of government, and by stern resistance to all movements, however subtle and apparently innocent, which tend to restrict the liberties of the people, and of individuals who in the aggregate are the people and the State.

Why have the peoples of Great Britain, United States and Canada laid such stress on individual liberty, and been willing to sacrifice all else in order to achieve it? The answer is, of course, that liberty is the greatest thing in life, and without it life is not worth the living. A slave may enjoy health and security, but lacking his God-given right of liberty he is denied that which is supremely greater, contentment and happiness.

It is not to be forgotten, too, that it is only in those countries where full and free democratic forms of government exist that liberty remains the priceless possession of the people. Yet we find in certain countries, where the people became lax in defence of their liberties, those very democratic forms were first utilized by would-be dictators to later deprive them of their liberties. And all over North America today there are organized groups, employing the very liberty which democracy has conferred upon them, to overthrow and destroy democracy.

It is necessary, therefore, for all people who prize liberty to be on their guard and resist every attempt, however veiled it may be, which is designed to restrict the liberty of themselves or others in even the smallest degree. Liberty once lost may be extremely hard to win back again.

A New Electric Lamp

Used Successfully in California To Attract And Kill Insects

A new electric lamp that attracts insect pests of field and orchard and then electrocutes them is in successful use in orchards, packing plants, slaughter houses, and mushroom nurseries as the result of long experimentation by Prof. W. B. Barnes of the University of California. The color of the light may be changed to the one most attractive to the insect pest. Around the light is a wire cage. Insects flying toward the light's glass coil are instantly electrocuted when they strike the wire cage. The head of the lamp contains transformers which supply electric power to the wire cage and to the lighted coil.

Will Try Bortol System

New Method Of Training For Youth In Penitentiaries

A system of training youthful delinquents similar to the Bortol system in the United Kingdom will be inaugurated in one of the penal institutions in Canada, Sept. 1, it was learned at Ottawa, where four years it is hoped to develop plans embracing the whole Dominion so far as Bortol training is concerned.

"If we are given one year for every 10 years of experimentation in Bortol training carried on by the United Kingdom, we shall be able to evolve a satisfactory system," declared one high government official. "The Bortol system has been in vogue in Great Britain for 40 years, the new methods are continuing to emerge."

In Canadian penitentiaries there were 221 young men between the ages of 16 and 21. It is with a proportion of these that the training system will start.

Holiday For Auto Horns

To make the life of pedestrians "a little more pleasant," Alderman Margaret McWilliams urged the blowing of automobile horns be prohibited for one or two months as an experiment in Winnipeg. The horn was more of a danger than a help, she told the civic traffic committee.

Husband (to wife who has just broken her glasses): "You break everything that belongs to you!" Wife: "I'm afraid you're right. Even our life is a little cracked."

Old lady (to taxi-driver, who is still holding out his hand after receiving legal fare): "It's no use showing it to me, my man, I don't know a thing about palmistry."

Paying Their Way

Dionne Babies Contribute Indirectly To Revenue For Ontario

If the five little Dionne girls knew anything about such things as tourist traffic, gasoline taxes and the revenues which they might bring to the province on their contributions to business and to the treasury of Ontario out of all proportions to what is expected of mere babes.

It has been estimated that the thousands of visitors to Callander are paying approximately $12,000 a month in gasoline taxes to the province. The crowds who see the Dionne quintuplets average one thousand a day. Tourist traffic into the North Bay district has increased nearly forty per cent, creating an evident prosperity that reaches out to hotels, other purveyors and tradesmen of all kinds.

The five little girls are more than paying their way, and are returning to the province substantial dividends on the sympathy and public assistance that was so generously and promptly rendered to them in the first precarious months of their young lives.

They are also supporting twenty persons, according to a report from Callander — their parents, three nurses, two maids for their mother, two hired men for their father, a cook, two orderlies, two special constables, three men to direct traffic, two hospital attendants and Dr. Duffie.

To their famous physician, they doubtless owe more than they can ever repay, but to everyone else they occupy a charming and cheerful position of independence in the sponsored knowledge that they are a personal and financial asset to Ontario. Dozens of men and families are unavoidably on relief, drawing funds from the strained provincial treasury to which five year-old babes are indirectly credited with contributing such appreciable sums as $12,000 in gasoline taxes alone.

The contrast presents just another anomaly of life—Peterborough Examiner.

Products Should Be Shown

Only Way To Interest China In Canadian Products

China, and particularly southern China, offers a huge and comparatively untapped field of opportunity to Canadian industry. Mrs. Beatrice Thompson, director of the advertising and publicity bureau of Hong Kong, China, and Malaya, declared at Montreal, she is visiting Canada's larger centres in connection with the proposed British Empire and China trade fair planned for December, 1936, at Hong Kong.

She said foodstuffs in particular were in demand. She estimated the potential consumption of imported butter at 13,000 tons annually with proportionate opportunities for the sale of tinned milk and other foods.

"There is only one way to interest the Chinese in your exports," Mrs. Thompson continued. Let them see your products for themselves. Merely to follow plans laid elsewhere and send out a commission on a brief visit is to court the same failure and lack of results that have been experienced in the past by other parts of the empire."

Deserves A Monument

Taxpayer Carries Burden Of World On His Shoulders

Someone should start a movement to build a monument to the average taxpayer. He is the man who averages the home fires burning and makes the wheels of government go around. He has given himself into the position of a taxpayer by thrift, by spending less than he makes, by investing in the home town, by building a home first and owning a roof over his own head. To do it he has denied himself pleasures and luxuries that the spendthrift had in plenty. In every community he may be abused and referred to slightly on many occasions, but in good years and bad years he is the backbone of the country, and without him there would be no government and no relief. He carries the burden that others shirk, many times without complaint, which he would often be justified in voicing. He is deserving a monument—a tall enduring monument, for he, like Atlas of old, bears the world upon his shoulders.—Cranbrook, B. C., Courier.

From January to June, 1935, Canada exported 6,103,449 pounds of leaf tobacco, 5,792,961 pounds of which went to the United Kingdom; 238,400 pounds to British West Africa; 52,895 pounds to British West India; 11,880 pounds to Belgium, and 7,513 pounds to other foreign countries.

There is just a hint of the "Puritan" in the standing collar model that frames the face so flatteringly for "more dressy" wear. It's particularly nice in taffeta as originally planned. They're so easily made—and at a big saving in cost.

Style No. 655 is designed for sizes small, medium and large. The medium size requires 2 yards of 39-inch material for cape with rolled collar; 2 1/2 yards of 39-inch material for cape with standing collar.

Patterns 15c each. Address mail orders to: Pattern Department, Winnipeg Newspaper Union, 175 McDermot Ave., E., Winnipeg.

Lady Haig's Book

Interim Interdict Is Granted Against Publication

An interim interdict was granted against the publication of Lady Haig's book, "The Man I Knew." The publishers decided to withhold the book in consequence of an action on the grounds that parts of the book infringed the copyright of the trustees in the diaries of the late Field Marshal Earl Haig. Publication of the diaries, it was contended, was likely to be detrimental to national defence and cause loss to the Haig estate.

The action recalled the prodigious diary-writing propensities of Haig. It was stated his personal record aggregated 750,000 words written in duplicate. A carbon copy was always sent to his wife.

Lady Haig's object in writing the book was largely to vindicate her husband against an attack in the recently-published memoirs of Lloyd George.

Want Privilege Of Emigrating To British Territory

The Tokio newspaper, Asahi predicted that Japan was about to make a strong bid for loosening of restrictions on the immigration of Japanese into British territory, notably Australia, New Zealand and Canada, and on importation of Japanese goods.

"Yes, sir, it was just about the ideal vacation. Nothing to do but loll around all day in comfortable chairs. No mosquitoes, no insects of any kind. Pleasant, smiling people on all sides. No big bills running up, no relatives, no sunburn."

"Just peace and quiet all day long. Through rest for the mind and body. The kind of vacation you've always dreamed about."

"Yes, sir, it was ideal. We certainly enjoyed that vacation the boss took."

Exhibit From Britain

Port Of London Authority Had Space At Toronto Exhibition

The Port of London Authority took space at the 57th Canadian National exhibition which opened at Toronto on August 23 and staged an exhibit representing the facilities provided in the Port of London to serve the great London market. The international character of London's commerce was emphasized by large-scale dioramas and mechanical devices illustrated the continuous flow of shipping in and out of the port.

The port authority have provided special facilities for dealing with Canadian trade, particularly at the Surrey commercial docks, and the trade has shown a marked increase during the last year or two. In a brochure specially prepared for the exhibition it is stated that "Canada wants to send more of her products and manufactures to Great Britain; yet many Canadians do not at present realize that London is Great Britain's premier port and serves Great Britain's greatest market. London provides the wealthiest and largest market for Canadian trade; the Port of London is the natural and obvious gateway to that market."

Should Look Her Best

Just As Important For An Elderly Woman As A Young Girl

Even if a woman is 101 years old she should "look her best," Mrs. Lucy M. Ulyatt declared as she observed her 101st anniversary at Berkeley, Calif.

"It is just as important for a woman 101 years old to look her best as it is for a girl of 16," said Mrs. Ulyatt, as she powdered her nose. Mrs. Ulyatt, who was born at Morgan Springs, Va., attributed her long life to "keeping busy and being interested in world politics and political affairs."

Canada, the United Kingdom, France, Germany and Austria are leading world importers of fruit. Canada does not require to import apples, but the average annual imports of other fruits into Canada from 1928-32 included 74,000 tons of bananas; 78,000 tons of oranges; 20,000 tons of dried grapes; 12,000 tons of lemons; 11,000 tons of grapes, and 8,000 tons of pears.

Senator Huey Long Louisiana "Dictator" Shot And Wounded

Baton Rouge, La. — Senator Huey P. Long was shot and wounded seriously in the state building Sunday night by Dr. C. A. Weiss, Jr., member of an anti-Long political family, who was quickly slain by the Louisiana "dictators" bodyguards.

An hour and a half after the shooting, Long was given a blood transfusion at Our Lady of the Lake infirmary, where attendants said the senator's wound consisted of a bullet hole through the stomach.

Long remained conscious as physicians worked over him. Blood for the transfusion was provided by Lieutenant-Governor James A. Noe, political ally of the senator.

While Long lay on the operating table at the hospital, physicians there said they were making a check to determine whether the pistol bullet which entered his right side was poisoned.

Market For Livestock

Edmonton.—Heavier orders are being received here for feeder cattle from this district for shipment to Ontario, states A. W. Burrell, manager of the Edmonton stock yards. Between August 1 and Sept. 5 there were 1,183 head of stock and feeder cattle moved from here to the Ontario market. The United States market also opened for hogs from the Edmonton area, 489 going to Spokane and 137 to St. Paul, beside 88 cattle to the latter market, in the first period given.

Selecting Normal Students

Toronto.—Dr. L. J. Toronto.—The Canadian public was asked to support its railways or entertain the eventuality of a skeletonized service from Halifax to Vancouver.

D. C. Coleman, senior vice-president of the Canadian Pacific railway, told an audience of transportation officials and commercial travelers, at the Canadian National exhibition, the railways of Canada were approaching a crisis and foretold an important announcement of policy before the close of the present year.

"We have failed to realize the importance of railways in our national life," said Mr. Coleman. "We have endeavored by every means at our disposal to divert traffic from the railways. We have subsidized bus lines, air traffic and built magnificent highways, all of which decreased the revenue of the railways."

The speaker declared many persons criticized the railways for not replacing their equipment, speeding up of service and following the streamline trend popular in the United States.

"Is it reasonable to expect the Canadian railways with an outlay of more than $600,000,000 in rolling stock to replace this at added expense in a time of shrinking revenues?" Mr. Coleman asked.

The railway official declared the trans-Canada highway, or a trans-Canada Air service would not replace the railways.

"Canadian railways freight rates are the lowest in the world. Wheat, timber and general freight are transported long distances at rates below those of any other country."

Mr. Coleman declared passenger revenues of Canadian railways decreased 65 per cent. in the last 17 years and said unless public support was afforded the railways, further curtailment of service would be necessary.

Distribution Of Voters

More Than One-Third On List Are Resident In Ontario

Ottawa.—More than one-third of the 5,948,503 voters whose names are inscribed in the basic list prepared last winter for the forthcoming election are resident in Ontario. The "banner province" has 2,172,596 electors qualified to vote on Oct. 14.

Ontario and Quebec account for considerably more than half of the Canadian electorate—3,747,120 to be exact. Quebec's list number 1,574,120.

Saskatchewan's list totals 443,484, with British Columbia next with 382,120 electors.

Manitoba's total is 371,204.

In Alberta there are 368,866 names on the basic list. The three maritime provinces aggregate 588,174, made up as follows: Nova Scotia, 303,738; New Brunswick, 229,182; and Prince Edward Island, 55,274.

The Yukon registration numbered 1,802.

It was found possible this year to present 17 bursaries, valued at $1,200 each, instead of the usual 15. The western Canada awards:

Alberta: Eric D. Wilson, Calgary; James M. Mann, Peace River.

British Columbia: Thomas Pepper, Silas Price, Lois Still, Robert Clark.

Air Force For Sudan

Squadron Leaves Egypt Bound For Kenya Colony

Cairo.—A British Royal Air Force squadron left Egypt bound for the Sudan and Kenya colony. The expedition was announced as a precautionary measure.

Sir Miles W. Lampson, British high commissioner here, informed Mohammed Zewid Abdallah, Egyptian minister of war, that British air manoeuvres would be held in the Suez region.

Ten Italian war transports passed through the Suez canal on their way to East Africa within two days. Three of the ships had a total of 7,000 men aboard, while seven were loaded with war supplies.

Postpone Inquiry

Gasoline And Motor Car Probe Continues After General Election

Ottawa.—The tariff board will postpone further hearings in the gasoline and motor car inquiries until after the general election, it was learned. The board is said to take the view politicians might use statements made in the hearings in a manner to bring that body into political controversy the public inquiry proceeding during the campaign.

Another reason for postponement is the fact it would be impossible to complete the hearings before the election and this might react in the voting prejudicial to the interests which had not had an opportunity to present their side of the argument.

Must Avoid Criticism

Ethiopia To Restrain Verbal Or Written Attacks Upon Italy

Addis Ababa.—More troops were rushed to the frontiers as Emperor Haile Selassie issued new decrees to restrain verbal and written attacks upon Premier Mussolini and Italy. The emperor ordered Kidane Miliam Tekle, editor of the Amharic language publication, "Voice of Ethiopia," arrested for using violent language against Italy.

A restraining attitude toward Rome was demanded by Haile Selassie. He ordered all publications to refer to Il Duce politely as "Mr. Mussolini" and never to attack him or Italy.

Although the end of the rainy season—long heralded as the probable time for hostilities to begin if war cannot be averted—is anticipated this month, the Associated Press correspondent at Jijiga, northern Ethiopia, reported heavy rains are continuing. Such roads as exist are waterlogged wherever the Italians would have to advance.

Urges Uniform Relief Plan

Mayor Of North Bay Believes It Would Be Approved

North Bay, Ont.—Deploing the lack of a uniform, scientific method of handling relief in the Dominion, Mayor W. G. Bullbrook, of North Bay, opened the 35th annual convention of the Union of Canadian municipalities here with his presidential address. He expressed the belief, if a representation of 90 per cent. of all Canadian mayors reached a decision on a course to be recommended to the Dominion government, it would not be a difficult matter to get the plan approved by Ottawa, "without playing politics."

Italy's Campaign

Will Get Under Way Without Declaration Of War

London.—Italy's campaign in Ethiopia will get under way without a formal declaration of war as soon as the weather allows the army to move, according to the Daily Telegraph.

Premier Mussolini will undertake his war campaign on the pretext it is a simple police measure, the newspaper said, and will present full arguments in support of his contention.

Fixed Price For No. 1 Northern Wheat 87 1-2c. Per Bushel

Ottawa.—Acting upon the recommendation of the Canadian wheat board the governor-in-council fixed the minimum price of No. 1 Northern wheat at Port William at 87½ cents a bushel.

Cabinet council approved the price, which will be effective throughout the current crop year, that is, until July, 1936. Announcement of the price was contained in Prime Minister Bennett's radio broadcast.

Establishment of the minimum fixed price is in accordance with the statute adopted at the last session of parliament creating the wheat board and its advisory committee and giving it power to buy wheat from producers at the fixed minimum price, so that the producer need not dispose of his wheat at a low figure.

Producers who sell direct to the wheat board will receive participation certificates entitling them to share in any surplus that may arise from the operations of the board.

In this connection the prime minister stated the Canadian wheat board hopes to have its organization ready to function in the matter of accepting and paying for delivery in about 10 days. In the meantime farmers delivering wheat to the board would take storage certificates from elevator companies which would later be exchanged for cash tickets on the basis of the fixed minimum price, and participation certificates.

Thirty years have seen wide fluctuations in wheat prices. The lowest yearly average price reached was in the crop year 1922-23. It was 54½ cents a bushel in Winnipeg for No. 1 Northern (Fort William-Port Arthur basis). The highest average was in 1919-20 when the initial fixed price was $2.15 and participating certificates brought the total price up to $2.63. They were under the control of the board of grain supervisors. Up to 1924 the crop year ended Aug. 31.

After that date the year ended July 31.

Yearly average prices at Winnipeg for the past 30 years for No. 1 Northern follow:

Year ended Aug. 31, 1906, 77.5; 1907, 79.5; 1908, 104.7; 1909, 116.1; 1910, 102.4; 1911, 96.6; 1912, 100.8; 1913, 89.4; 1914, 89.4; 1915, 132.3; 1916, 113.3; 1917, 205.6; 1918, 221; 1919, 224.1; 1920, 217.5; 1921, 199.3; 1922, 129.7; 1923, 110.5; 1924, 107.1; 1925, 169; 1926, 151.2; 1927, 146.3; 1928, 144.3; 1929, 124; 1930, 124; 1931, 64.3; 1932, 58; 1933, 54.5; 1934, 68.1; 1935, 87.3.

U.S. Government Completes Plan To Establish Legation Residence

Ottawa.—To complete its program for establishment of legation residence and office quarters in Ottawa the United States government has purchased the 10-acre estate of the late Warren Y. The Soper estate is one of the most beautiful residential properties in Ottawa.

Chinese Bank Closes

Pioneer House Has Been Forced To Suspend Payments

Hong Kong.—South China's financial structure was shaken by the closing of the Bank of Canton, pioneer Chinese banking house.

Officials of other Chinese banks, however, voiced confidence in their ability to meet heavy withdrawals resulting from public nervousness.

The falling off of remittances from overseas, the general depression in China and the effects of the American silver purchasing policy, blamed by officers of the Bank of Canton for suspension of payments.

Anthony Eden Delivers A Notable Speech Before League

Geneva.—Anthony Eden, Britain's minister for league affairs, opened the session with a strong and earnest plea for maintenance of the league in both letter and spirit. The scene was dramatic in the extreme.

Eden emphasized Britain was ready to do everything in her power to secure a peaceful settlement.

"In these post-war years," said the British delegate, "the nations have striven laboriously and sincerely, with a measure of success, to create a new international order which shall henceforth spare mankind the scourge of war. They made this attempt because they have learnt at long last the bitter lesson that war is a constant enemy of progress."

"That is why they pledged themselves in the pact of Paris to renounce war as an instrument of national policy."

It was for the same reasons members of the league previously expressed their determination, and gave form to their conviction, in articles of the covenant which they drew up, and which we have all undertaken to respect.

"The machinery of the new order is here in Geneva. If the spirit is also here we cannot fail."

"It is because his majesty's government is acutely conscious of their responsibilities as members of the league, because they are prepared to fulfil their share of such responsibilities, that I can assure my colleagues of our most whole-hearted co-operation in the difficult task that confronts us all."

"I am sure that all of us, as members of the council, must be fully alive to our responsibilities at this time. World opinion is watching us. The league has not a few successes to its credit, even in the short years it has lived, such a brief span in human history. Yet we all know, we cannot fail to know, and this is not the time to blind ourselves to the truth, that if in the judgment of world opinion the league fails in this dispute its authority for the future will be grievously shaken, its influence gravely impaired."

"The collapse of the league and the new international order for which it stands would be a world calamity."

"I need hardly repeat on this occasion that there is no dispute between Italy and Ethiopia no question of any political or economic conflict between the United Kingdom and Italy."

"The specific interests of Britain in Ethiopia have been explicitly recognized by Italy and his majesty's government are under no apprehensions that they will not continue to be respected as they have been in the past."

"The role concern of his majesty's government in this dispute is as a member of the league and a signatory to the pact of Paris. In the position in which we find ourselves the nature of the task which lies before us is plain."

"It is our duty to use the machinery of the league to settle this dispute. Let us set it to work forthwith, and if we obtain loyal collaboration of the two parties to the dispute then we shall not fail to achieve the peaceful settlement we so earnestly desire."

Premier Laval spoke in support of then Baron Aulot arose. "All possibility of pacific collaboration between Italy and Ethiopia having unfortunately failed," he said bluntly, "Italy cannot continue her attitude of passivity and forgiveness towards a barbarian state incapable of controlling itself, incapable of controlling its subject populations, which, powerfully armed, at present threaten Italian frontiers...."

"The Ethiopian government has done nothing to make it worthy of belonging to the community of civilized nations. Even here, it has not absolutely conformed to the engagements it has undertaken for admission to the league."

"The Italian government holds in these circumstances that a state like Ethiopia cannot have either equality of rights or equality of duties with civilized states. If such equality is granted to her, and above all if in granting it credit is given to Ethiopia for the future, these are not sufficient motives to permit the league to perpetuate and to prejudice other members, an error which was committed in good faith in 1925 (when Ethiopia was admitted to the league with Italian support)."

ALBERTA'S "MAN OF THE HOUR" AT HOME

NOTES AND COMMENTS

FIFTY BIG SHOTS has a familiar sound. This was one of Aberhart's battle cries. Lesser fry echoed it. The words became familiar from Halifax to Vancouver, for had not war been declared against them, including our Federal premier, Hon. E. B. Bennett?

THEN, the first crack out of the box the Honourable William, B.A., asks the aid of one of the Fifty Big Shots for a loan of $18,000,000. Being a fair-minded premier, and anxious to preserve the credit of this fair Dominion, leaving aside entirely the intricacies of Social Credit theories, R. B. informs William he will be ready to consider his request.

THUS it appears at the outset that those dreaded interest charges of which so much had been said would be further increased, while for the time being $25 dividends are left in the background for "experts" to deal with.

THEORIES blow up as quickly as a child's toy balloon when confronted with practical things. Premier Reid apparently left an empty treasury for the incoming government. Money must be had to carry on the ordinary governmental costs of Alberta. Instead of singing the familiar theme song, "O God Our Help in Ages Past," Aberhart without hesitation turned at once to the Federal government for assistance.

DO NOT THINK we are criticizing our prophetic provincial premier for this seeking aid in times of financial distress. He has an uphill road to provide monthly dividends without having to face off with an empty treasury. He must be given time to prove if his theory is correct or not. A bad start often has a good ending. But the bright vision is badly belated at the outset of his political career.

ONE POINT in the new government's favor is that an expensive commission headed by an expert from England has been abandoned. Mr. Aberhart states that information he already possesses makes unnecessary an enquiry into the coal industry. Not having heard the views of prominent men in the industry, opinion cannot be ventured if Mr. Aberhart has acted wisely in cancelling this enquiry. But he has shown that he does not intend to spend public money unless he believes it worth while, for many commissions have been regarded as of little value in solving problems.

IT HAS BEEN hinted that the new government would institute a press bureau. This bureau would issue only such news as the government deemed advisable concerning its deliberations. This would not be regarded with popular favor. It would be of little value in satisfying the public, for they want independent viewpoints in their newspapers—not colored propaganda. The manner in which Mr. Aberhart flayed his political opponents and suggested boycotts does not tend to inspire confidence in press reports which would emanate from his controlled bureau. Henceforth he must recognize that he is not serving adherents of the Prophetic Bible Institute, but the whole of Alberta's population, approximately 46% of whom voted against his proposals.

HIS CAMPAIGN was based on the theory that people would not ask the question on the close of the polls: "Did you run a nice clean campaign?" but—"did you win?" As an astute politician he had all others wiped clean off the slate, for Sundays were his best political campaigning days, under the guise of religious fervor.

WE ASK our readers' indulgence for these rambling observations, written at the moment from outside of the province, where possibly we may view

Alberta's political developments with somewhat more detached perspective than if we were writing this at home. We never became enthused with Mr. Aberhart's religious teachings any more than with his political theories, regarding both as demagogic. And we cannot mask ourselves with a cloak of hyperis in changing our viewpoint because a majority vote declared in favor of his proposals.

HOLIDAYING in Vancouver, where the absence of strong winds is in marked contrast with our vigorous breezes of the Crow's Nest Pass, it was a pleasure to meet many old friends of earlier days. The balmy air of the Pacific coast in September is very seductive to people coming from a much more vigorous atmosphere of the higher altitude of the eastern slopes of the Rockies, and one would fain linger for awhile. After the violent conflict of opinions of Communism, Social Credit, and other political beliefs, the air, politically, is comparatively calm. But dig beneath the surface, just slightly and you find that all is not well with public opinion towards Gerry McGeer and Premier Patullo, while the waterfront strike gives spice to the day's news and the police courts are far from idle. Viewing all the bright lights from the untenth story of a big hotel, and then reading the daily record of the very news, one comes to the conclusion that all is not gold that glitters, and that the affairs of a big city are but the same as those of a small town, only on a larger scale, though the city has more intrigue, racketeering and wire-pulling than the smaller centres. Wherever you may be, you have an interesting time by keeping your eyes and ears open. A change does everyone good and lifts them out of the rut.

AN IMPROVEMENT which would lessen the discomfort of the dust nuisance would be the surfacing of roads in town most used by automobiles. A good start has been made by surfacing Main street. Its benefit is apparent and appreciated. It has been the aim of the present mayor and council to effect improvements as rapidly as tax collections will permit, and doubtless it will be their aim to continue the good work, thereby increasing civic pride. As the care of one's home reflects the character of the individual, so does the town's appearance reflect the enterprise of its governing bodies. Public opinion would readily support judicious expenditure on public improvements, giving employment to local labor.

THOSE WHO RAIL at Big Business might well take heed of the following words of Harry Gordon Selfridge, American merchant in London. He states: "Governments draw the major part of their sustenance from the business of the countries they rule, so that if business fails, all the other legislative and administrative projects and purposes fall to the ground. The biggest disaster that can descend on a nation is that, when it has become a great business organization—and every modern nation is that—it should find itself deficient in business management, ideals and set policies. Freedom is only a catchword if it means freedom in bankruptcy. The nation which is bankrupt is in slavery to economic facts, and these are more pitiless than any tyrant. Anyone who knows anything of modern political history knows that the real power in any government, the power behind all government, is business."

GREAT BRITAIN STILL IN CONTROL

Although Hitler has been permitted to proceed with his naval construction plans they only include proposed building up to 35% of Great Britain's strength. Some think that 35% is only a beginning despite Hitler's assertions that he intends to build on stronger. France is more reticent over the matter as she has Mediterranean and other waters to patrol as well as the North Sea.

MAN-BUILDING BRIEF

Reviewed by John Edwin Price
(Quotations with permission)

Lyman Abbott, the great, used to tell the following story: "The flowers got into a debate one morning as to which of them was the flower of God; and the rose said, 'I am the flower of God, for I am the fairest and the most perfect in beauty and variety of form and delicacy of fragrance of all the flowers.' And the crocus said, 'No, you are not the flower of God. Why, I was blooming long before you bloomed. I am the primitive flower; I am the first one.' And the trailing arbutus said, 'Before any of you come forth I was blooming under the leaves and under the snow—am I not the flower of God? And all the flowers cried out, 'Ho, you are not a flower at all—you are a come-outer!'"

"And then God's wind, blowing on the garden, brought this message to them: 'Little flowers, do you not know that every flower that answers God's spring call, and comes out of the cold, dark earth, and lifts its head above the sod and blooms forth, catching the sunlight from God and flinging it back to him, taking the sweetest wind from God and giving it back to others in sweet and blessed fragrance—do you not know they are all God's flowers?'"

As I read this beautiful parable of Lyman the Great, I said to myself: "How like the flowers we mortals be! Now there's Emperor Haile Selassie. He thinks he's God's chosen one, the Lion of Judah, a descendant of the Queen of Sheba! 'My people represent varieties of color,' says he. But wait! It only takes a cartoon of the Emperor of Japan pushing a wheelbarrow to rear the Japanese on their hind legs saying, 'Our Emperor is a direct descendant of the Sun God. What are the varied claims and colors of the Ethiopians to the brilliance of our Emperor! Surely he must be the chosen of God of Gods, and we, his subjects, can do no wrong.'"

And then Hitler, representing the modest (excuse it please) lily of the valley, says: "I am small but I am

ONE WORD FROM CALLES

One word from the average man—and his wife does as he pleases. But just let Calles, ex-president of Mexico, speak and action starts. He made a few remarks last Wednesday antagonizing the government. The next day the entire cabinet resigned. Usually when a man is out he is out. It appears that Calles, though down from the seat of authority, is not out when it comes to power.

Miners' Strike Threatened

British Miners Are Dissatisfied With Wages And Working Conditions

A national miners' strike will be declared in Great Britain if demands for higher wages and better working conditions are not met, Ebenezer Edwards, secretary of the Miners' Federation, declared in a manifesto in London. The manifesto asked the public to help the miners to avoid a crisis.

"The hour has struck," it said. "After years of patient submission to conditions fit for slaves, the miners have decided to enforce their demands for the payment of reasonable wages. Their wages are a shame for a civilized community."

Fate Of The Stowaway

Not As Severe Now As In The Olden Days

The fate of a stowaway in the "good old days" was summary and severe. He could have little doubt as to what he would get—an introduction to the rope's-end, and a voyage of slavery in working his passage.

To-day the stowaway meets with a far more prosaic reception. Repeatedly such people are discovered before the ship leaves port and handed over to the authorities on shore. Nevertheless, some there are who manage to elude observation until the vessel they have chosen is well at sea.

It is practically impossible to land undetected at the ports of any civilized country, even could stowaways remain concealed for a whole voyage.

Today the life of a stowaway is still fraught with danger. Examples have occurred of men trapped like rats by the shifting of cargo, or suffocated through lack of ventilation.

The Great Eastern, that wonder ship of the reign of Queen Victoria, carried a grim secret below the waterline all the days of her seafaring life. From her very first voyage to her last she carried an involuntary stowaway—the body of a dead man—but the fact was never discovered until she reached the shipbreakers' yard. Then the skeleton was found in her hold, and proved to be that of a workman who had been engaged in her construction.

A curious stowaway story is told by Captain John Attwood, who has just retired after nearly 47 years at sea. His last command was the Union-Castle liner Balmoral Castle.

When he was second officer of the Goth in 1901 he found an escaped Boer prisoner who was six feet three inches tall hiding in a case described as containing "curios," and measuring less than five feet in length.

This interesting curio was consigned to an eminent officer of the Buffs (East Kent Regiment), and the box is still to be seen in the museum on the island of St. Helena.

During the last war vigilance at all ports was great, for as far as Britain was concerned the sea provided the only route for escaping prisoners. Nevertheless, one or two enterprising Germans managed to get away, and a particular individual for whose recapture loud clamour had been raised by a national newspaper sent a postcard to that organ of public opinion announcing his safe arrival in Denmark.

Found Fortune In Pillow

Chinese Spent Last Coin For Purchase That Brought Wealth

A poor Chinese who bought a little red satin pillow with his last coin because he thought his wife would like it—now finds his purchase has brought him a fortune. The lucky man, Chen Ting-ngh, had borrowed a dollar (1s. 5d.) from his brother-in-law when he met a destitute Russian who offered him the pillow. He knew his wife would be pleased with its marvellous embroidery and paid over his last dollar. But when he reached home he was afraid to tell her how he had "wasted" the borrowed dollar.

So he lay down, with his head on the pillow to think matters over. The pillow was so uncomfortable that Chen became irritated and began to tear off its covering. Embroidery of even greater beauty was revealed and he went on tearing off successive coverings till he came to a ball of cotton wool. It contained 49 pearls of great beauty and size. Now Chen is richer by £3,867—the sum he obtained for the pearls. The pillow is said to have been lost by the Empress Dowager Tse Hsi during the boxer rising, when she fled from Peking. She subsequently offered a large reward for its return, but its whereabouts remained a mystery until Chen solved it.

Motor Cars In Germany

Per Capita Distribution Is One To Every 75 Persons

Although Germany in the early days of the industry was an important producer of automobiles, and still produces and exports far more than Canada, it has fewer motor vehicles in use by a couple of hundred thousand than this country. According to Paul Sykes, Canadian trade commissioner in Hamburg, a survey showed 868,000 passenger and commercial motor vehicles in use throughout Germany in 1934. The per capita distribution was on a basis of one to every 75 persons. In Canada it is about one to nine persons, and in the United States about one to five.

Germany would therefore appear to be a long way from the saturation point, and a wonderful market for cars is awaiting manufacturers at home or abroad. Evidently it will be for German manufacturers, and they ought to do pretty well out of it, under the trade regulations set up. In Canada we think the tariff pretty high, but Mr. Sykes summarizes the German situation as follows:

"The import duty amounts, in the case of a medium-weight car of whatever price, to from $400 to $600 (Canadian currency) per unit. Also, it has now become difficult, and at times impossible for importers or agents to obtain import permits or to complete payment for such purchases of foreign goods."

China Has Sea Monster

Creature Said To Resemble Man And Eat Human Flesh

Inhabitants of the Amoy coast, China, have been terrified by reports of a sea monster with a vast appetite and a partiality for human flesh.

The world's latest marine terror bears little resemblance to the famous sea serpents of British Columbia and Scotland. The Amoy monster is said to closely resemble a man when seen from afar although no one has been close enough to obtain an accurate description of the creature.

The monster is modestly clad in long black hair and is reported amphibious. Apparently it does not possess the long sinuous body and camel-like head attributed to the Canadian serpents.

TIMOTHY (A Christian Worker In Training)

Golden text: Give diligence to present thyself approved unto God, a workman that needs not to be ashamed, handling aright the word of truth. II Timothy 2:15.

Lesson: II Timothy, Chapter 1. Devotional reading: I. Timothy 6:11-16.

Explanations And Comments

Exhortations, verses 6-14. At his ordination by the laying on of hands, Timothy received the gift of God; this Paul recalls to Timothy's mind and bids him stir up the gift—as one would the embers of a fire which are in danger of dying out. He must exercise his gift—that spiritual equipment which has been given him in danger of dying out in order to increase it; it is a question of use or loss.

Paul urges Timothy to put away fear, timidity, and rely upon the power and love and discipline which come from God.

So do not be ashamed to testify to our Lord, and do not be ashamed of a prisoner of the Lord like me; join me in bearing suffering for the gospel by the power of the God who has saved us and called us to a life of consecration—not for anything we have done but because he chose to do it himself, by the grace which he gave us ages ago in Christ Jesus and has now revealed in the appearance of our Saviour Christ Jesus, who has put down death and brought life and immortality to life (Moffat's translation).

Model yourself on the sound instruction you have had from me in the faith and love of Christ Jesus. Keep us great securities of your faith intact by aid of the Holy Spirit that dwells within us (Moffat's translation).

Appointment Of Commission Will Be Made This Fall

Action in regard to appointment of the royal commission on health approved some months ago at the Dominion-provincial health conference held in Ottawa will not be taken until the fall, Col. the Hon. D. M. Sutherland, minister of national health, said. The whole subject was one of such extreme importance that it could not be rushed, the minister added.

Much preliminary work had to be done in the way of consulting the various interests involved—doctors, nurses, dentists, druggists, labor, agricultural and financial. These, said the minister, will have to be co-related in order to get "preliminary action" before definite steps towards instituting the inquiry can be made.

SYNOPSIS

Nancy Nelson is a sub-deb, a gay, irresponsible girl of nineteen, with no care beyond the choice of her costume for her coming-out party. Suddenly, in the market crash, her indulgent father loses all he had, and his family is faced with the necessity of a simpler method of living. At this juncture a letter is received from an eccentric relative in Colorado, who offers the girl a home on what seems to be impossible conditions.

After much consideration Cousin Columbine's offer is accepted, and Nancy and Jack arrive at Pine Ridge. Nancy set out one afternoon to climb to the top of a hill so as to obtain a view of the surrounding landscape and miss the path Aurora Tubbs had told her to follow. A truck comes along the road, driven by Matthew Adams, and she asks him which way to go. They ascend the hill, look around, and then go on to Cousin Columbine's. There Mark Adam tells Nancy that his brother Luke has broken his leg, and that Jack Nelson has been hired to help out while Luke's leg gets better. With Jack away, Nancy finds that she is lonesome, and having no books to read, the idea of starting a public library at Pine Ridge seems a good one, and Nancy writes home to get her parents to send all the books they could spare and all they could induce others to let them have.

Nancy and Matthew Adam go Christmas shopping in a neighboring town. On their return to Pine Ridge, Nancy is amazed to see the Columbine residence all lit up, and asks Matthew if he knows why. He said: "Let's go in and see. Then Nancy learns that she is having her debut, but in a different setting than had been planned for her in Boston. Nancy's parents and friends gave her liberal support to her request for books, and a sizeable box arrived in due course. Father Adam painted a sign for the library, and the Adam boys worked on the shelves for the books and decorations to make the room look presentable.

Now Go On With The Story

CHAPTER XVI

March "came in like a lamb," and continued lamb-like for so long that Nancy hung her fur coat at the very back of her closet, and concluded that spring had come. It was on one of these rare days when Aurora, deep in an orgy of housecleaning, ordered the girl emphatically to

"clear out," that Nancy decided to test the woodland trail to the hilltop where she had gone with Matthew three months before; and reaching the summit, dropped breathless at the foot of the old pine.

She had wanted to go out to the Adam ranch that morning, but it was "library day," and Mary Taylor, who would have taken her place behind the desk, was visiting in Pueblo. There was nothing to do but stay at home, and this was the sort of weather that made one long to "go somewhere"—surely too fine a day to remain indoors. So here she was, gazing off at that marvelous picture, with Pike's Peak looking only about a mile away; and at her feet a clump of Colorado anemones like those Matt had brought her from the ranch last week. Nancy wished that Aunt Judy, who so loved flowers, was here to see them.

Suddenly it struck the girl as unbelievable that she should be two thousand miles from home, alone on a hilltop under a pine that had (as Matthew Adam pointed out), viewed things that were part of the history of her country. If only this wonderful old tree could talk! Why, it had stood here in silence and watched that Indian and his boy approach the lonely cabin where a small Colorado Columbine was rapturously enjoying her first Christmas tree! Did it tug at its sturdy roots in an effort to send forth a warning? mused Nancy whimsically; and then said aloud:

"But I'd never have had these thoughts if Matt hadn't put them in my head, perhaps. He's a queer boy—Matt—Adam—so awfully shy most of the time, and such a riot when he forgets himself. I never saw any one just like him. Mark's bright as a dollar, and one can have perfectly grand times with him; but there are days when I like his brother even more. Somehow Matt makes you want to protect him, he's so sensitive. And in that Tux the night of my—"

Nancy started, blushing as red as ever the approaching Matthew had. He smiled and apologized: "Sorry I scared you. Thought maybe you saw the truck bumping along the road down there. I caught a glimpse of an orange tam and made a guess that you'd be under it. Mother wants you for supper; and Dad has promised to fry chickens if you'll come."

"Does the invitation include Cousin Columbine?" asked Nancy as the young man dropped to the ground beside her.

"Of course. You can ride back with Luke when he gets the milk cans this afternoon."

"That's grand," smiled Nancy. "How did your mother know that I was crazy to go out to the ranch today?"

"She didn't. It's a farewell banquet for yours truly. I'm swapping jobs with Mark to-morrow. Uncle Tom needs some one a while longer, and Mark is fit to tie at missing so much of your society. He called Mother up this morning with a pathetic story which she fell for instantly, and proceeded to point out the fact that it was my duty to relieve him. Jack's going to drive me to Prairie Ranch to-morrow, and come home with Mark. I hope to thunder I'll be back in another week."

"I hope so too," returned Nancy sweetly; "but it's been wonderful for Jack, having this chance to stay with you people. I didn't dream your uncle would be laid up so long."

"Neither did Mark," laughed Matthew, "or it would have required even more persuasion to make him go! But it was Uncle Tom who fixed things so Dad and Mother could marry when they did, and they'd lend him anything for their sons to their last copper. Say, Nancy, have—have you decided when you're going East?"

"I wrote Dad yesterday that I thought we ought to stay till June. There are such a lot of things we want to see, Matt; and goodness knows if we'll ever come again."

"Of course you will! What makes you say a thing like that? Why—why if I thought—"

He didn't finish the sentence; and Nancy said demurely: "It's nice of you to want us to return! And we're going to miss you Adams a whole lot. That's straight, Matt. Yet I can't help wondering if when we once get home again this week, the whole experience, won't seem almost like a dream. If you knew how I dreamed to come! I was scared out of my senses. You've no idea what an awful coward I am."

"Was, perhaps," Matthew corrected gravely.

Nancy threw him a little smile; then her face sobered.

"I'm not so sure the past tense is correct, Matt. Sometimes I think my courage has never been tested, and wonder how I'd show up in a pinch. It was pride that made me consent to come out here—that is, mostly pride. I wanted to help Dad, of course. We all did. But I'd never have come alone, Matt. I'm no heroine."

"I beg to disagree with you, lady. Jack says you never whimpered at giving up that glorious debut."

The girl raised her head in sheer surprise.

"He did?"

Matthew nodded.

"Your kid brother thinks the world of you, Nancy. Didn't you know it?"

Nancy pondered that.

"I knew Jack was fond of me, of course; but when I hesitated about coming to Colorado he—he called me a parlor ornament, and—"

Matt laughed, his eyes shining as his mother's had when Nancy first saw him.

"What's the disgrace in being ornamental so long as you're something else besides? Look at our library, Miss Aladdin! Honestly, Nancy, Dad says he doesn't know any one who's accomplished so much in a

The Measure Of Success

Is Ability To Keep On When Every One Turns Back

On every hand we see people who have turned back, people who had pluck enough to begin things with enthusiasm, but did not have grit enough to carry them to a finish. The point at which you are tempted to turn back, the point when your grit leaves you, will measure your achievement power. Your ability to go on, to continue after everybody else has turned back, is a good measure of your possible success.

Ancient Villages Revealed

Three Distinct Sites Have Been Excavated In England

Some of the secrets of Maiden Castle, near Dorchester, Britain's best preserved pre-historic monument, recently revealed by excavations made by Dr. R. E. M. Wheeler, were described by him before the Society of Antiquaries at Burlington House, London, the other day. Three distinct sites had been excavated, he said. In the first he had found Neolithic pits filled with pottery of simple design, reshaped flint axes and other weapons. They had also cut into the site of a Neolithic village of about 2000 B.C. For the next fifteen centuries the site was without human occupation, owing to water shortage experienced on nearly all highlands of Europe. In the second excavation they cut across a bank reinforced with a palisade of one-foot timbers and a ditch fifty feet wide and thirty feet deep. They discovered twelve or fifteen hearths at different levels in the ditch filling. "On this site we found seventy-six Iron Age pits, used for dwellings, cooking and storage," Dr. Wheeler said.

LEADING PAINT MANUFACTURERS ANNOUNCE

PRICE REDUCTION

First Quality House Paint

Now

per gallon

(Whites Slightly Higher)

The Quality Remains Exactly The Same. Only The Price Is Changed.

Dating from to-day, the price of first quality house paints manufactured and sold by the undersigned companies is reduced to $3.95 per gallon.

There has been no change in market conditions or manufacturing costs to justify this step. We feel, however, there is urgent need for action that will make it possible for house-holders to obtain the highest quality paints at the lowest price consistent with strict maintenance of quality.

Thousands of people all over the country have been forced to put off much needed painting. Thousands more have been misled by "bargain" prices into using inferior paint of little or no value. We want to make it easier for you to enjoy the advantages of painting with first quality paint only, and are confident that the generous reduction in price now announced is the best way to accomplish this.
